Recruiting talk highlights support, relationships

The Lunch & Learn put on by the Badger Region focused on recruiting this month and featured a combination of coaches (Leigh Barea from UW-Parkside and Amber Needham from UW-La Crosse) along with a trio of staff members from Hudl.

A theme that was woven throughout the hourlong webinar focused on how building relationships between the athletes, coaches and families was vital to the recruiting process. Along with that, the support (video highlights, profiles and analysis) that is offered to those in the recruiting process is vital for information sharing.

Board approves 'In Good Standing' policy for refs

The Badger Region board of directors approved in May an "In Good Standing" policy for all officials to be assignable moving forward.

The criteria listed below must be met on an annual basis.

If a referee cannot meet these criteria, he or she may apply to the Officials Chair for a one-season waiver to become inactive, which will not be unreasonably withheld.

- * Annual USAV Full Membership
- * Annual USAV background screen
- * Annual Safesport Training
- * $25 annual Badger Region Ref/Scorer fee

- * Complete and submit annual Independent Contractor and W-9 forms
- * Completion of all required USAV modules assigned by Badger Region

- * Attend the Badger Region officials' preseason meeting (in person or online) or a new referee clinic.

- * Conduct themselves with an appropriate level of professionalism and are not under review or hold sanctions from the Badger Region Ethics & Eligibility Committee.

- * Official has been assigned to and has or will be working two separate Badger Region-hosted events (Badger Region Championships, Badger Region Power League, Badger Region Qualifier, Dale Rohde) or WVC events or other single day-approved events. An official can also meet requirements by working in a mentoring role at two events.

- The official does not have to work both days of a two-day event.
- The two days need to be from two separate events.

If an official does not officiate or mentor (as assigned by the Badger Region Assignor) at least two Badger Region tournaments in a season, they will be considered to have been inactive for that season (and until they have officiated a tournament in a subsequent season). If an official is inactive for two successive seasons, the official will be required to repeat the certification process, beginning with clinic attendance and practical evaluation before being reinstated and officiating for the Region again. Failing to meet one or more of the following Good Standing criteria will result in "Conditional" status which will affect tournament officiating fees and possibly eligibility to receive assignments. Conditional officials are not considered to be in good standing.

Good standing for advancement

To be considered for advancement AND in good standing in the Badger Region, the referee must meet the criteria outlined below. If a referee cannot meet these criteria they will not be eligible for advancement.

- * Annual USAV Full Membership
- * Annual USAV background screen
- * Annual Safe Sport Training
- * $25 annual Badger Region Ref/Scorer fee

- * Complete and submitted annual IC/W 9 forms

- * Complete and submit annual Independent Contractor and W-9 forms

- * Official has been assigned to and has or will be working two separate Badger Region-hosted events (Badger Region Championships, Badger Region Power League, Badger Region Qualifier, Dale Rohde) or WVC events or other single day-approved events. An official can also meet requirements by working in a mentoring role at two events.

- * Maintain certification as a USAV Scorer.

- * Attend the Badger Region officials' preseason meeting (in person or online) or a new referee clinic.

- * Conduct themselves with an appropriate level of professionalism and are not under review or hold sanctions from the Badger Region Ethics & Eligibility Committee.

Rationale

- * Important in order to prevent officials from just using the region to become certified and not officiate region events.

- * Perception is that our officials pool increases but the number of "assignable officials" does not.

- * Help the region retain officials to use in region events

- * Officials mentoring can only be scheduled for those officials working Badger Region sanctioned events. Mentors can be scheduled for officials during these events to help make those officials better. All mentors are scheduled by the officials assignor and paid for by Badger Region. Our goal is to make our region officials better and help them towards advancement.

- * This is common in most regions and helps unify policies region to region.

Have questions about the "In Good Standing" policy, contact a member of the Badger Region Board of Directors.

Expanding opportunities to play volleyball

Midwest Penguins' use youth-friendly training to help grow the sport

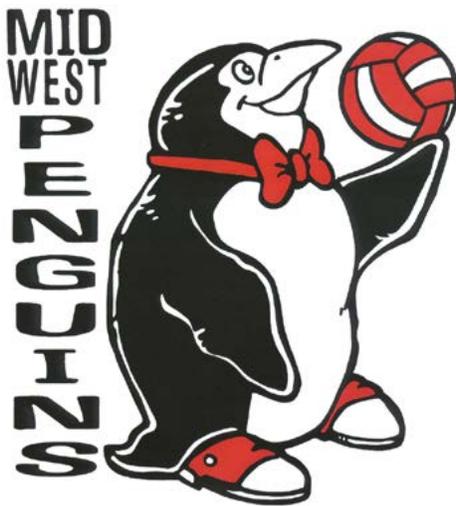

Nationally, girls' high school volleyball participation has increased 15% since 2002 and 8.4% since 2012, pushing it ahead of basketball as the second-most popular sport, per the Wall Street Journal. It even gained athletes during the pandemic, when most sports saw a drop.

As participation at the high school level is reaching new highs, and viewership of college volleyball is exploding, awareness is quickly growing among younger children.

Expanding opportunities to play is so important to the continued growth of the sport. Midwest Penguins, a club located in Southeast Wisconsin, was out in front of this trend when they started their "Digging It" program in 2010.

Digging It offers athletes as young as first grade to learn volleyball skills through fun activities and drills. Janice Siebert, one of the club owners at Midwest Penguins, explains that the program is now 14 years old and the genesis of the program was a clinic put on by a college. Key to the college's presentation was the introduction of very lightweight balls that young athletes could handle more easily and not fear getting hurt. Janice and fellow Midwest Penguins club owner Anne Slattery incorporated the ideas presented by the college into their Digging It program. To date, over 2,000 athletes have made their way through the Digging It program.

A second challenge to teaching volleyball to elementary school-aged children is the difficulty keeping rallies going. Digging It's solution is to build the program around really fun drills. There is an unmistakable element of The Karate Kid, "wax on, wax off" in the approach, as the athletes favorite activity is an obstacle course which has them running, jumping, tumbling, using quick footwork and performing other actions which replicate volleyball skills. The kids love the course, and grow to see how the skills necessary in the course are also those necessary in volleyball.

Janice explains that finding new ways to teach them skills is a fun challenge. As the athletes progress through Digging It, game play is introduced parallel to the introduction of volleyball in school at grade 5.

There are certainly other programs for young, elementary school age athletes around the state. But what Janice and Midwest created next is a bit more novel. Listening to the Digging It families, they recognized a gap they could fill in the middle school age-range.

Thus began Wisconsin Club, an intramural, intra-club program. Janice believes the Wisconsin Club program fits two primary groups of girls, though all are welcome. First are the girls for whom volleyball isn't their primary sport, but they've grown to enjoy the sport and want to stay active. And second are the girls of families who aren't ready to commit to the schedule and financial demands of regional or national club volleyball.

How well is the program doing? Well, they started seven years ago with 4 teams, and today the program has grown to 12 teams, 6 each at the 5th/6th grade and 7th/8th grade level. The program has welcomed over 600 girls since its inception, and had to turn away 20 hopeful athletes from a wait-list in the past season. The program would certainly expand, if only the gym space was available, explains Janice.

Janice and Anne have centered their lives around volleyball, and obviously love the competition of the sport. But Janice notes a source of joy in watching Wisconsin Club matches and how competition is throttled down in favor of purely enjoying the sport. And there is no lack of skill, in fact the athletes who have made their way up through Digging It often demonstrate stronger fundamental volleyball skills than kids who find the sport in middle school.

Volleyball as a high school sport is close to eclipsing track as the No. 1 sport in many states, and has already achieved that status in many more. NCAA volleyball viewership has grown exponentially in recent years. Our sport is exploding. Keeping that interest alive is dependent on providing programs for young athletes to experience the game and learn skills at a young age.

And, as Midwest Penguins has done, it is equally rewarding to recognize that not all girls will follow the path through club volleyball to high school varsity to college athlete. And, quite honestly, that path isn't necessary to develop a lifelong love of the sport. Intramural Wisconsin Club keeps volleyball alive for at least 200 girls in the Waukesha area each winter season.

Nominations being sought for those 'Caught Doing Good'

The Badger Region is looking forward to opportunities to feature athletes, coaches, officials and fans in the pages of our newsletter and on our website and social media.

Here's where you can come in. You can also nominate someone for our Caught Doing Good program.

This is for those fans, coaches, officials, players, etc. who go above and beyond.

They are the ones who stay after practice and clean the gym. They are the ones who put in the extra half hour to help after practice if someone needs added training. They are the ones you go to get stuff done.

Let's recognize the folks who are doing things the right way and setting a great example for athletes at all events. And let's encourage one another to pay it forward and discourage poor sportsmanship or behavior on the court or off.

To fill out a CDG nomination and see previous winners, click here: <https://badgervolleyball.org/caught-doing-good/>.

All winners and the folks who nominated them will get Badger Region apparel and other swag.

The deadline for nominations will be May 31, 2023.

Tournament entry date Nov. 19 for club directors

SAVE THE DATE

Black Friday can again be reserved for shopping, sleeping in or spending time with family. The Badger Region has moved its tournament entry for one-day events to 6 p.m. Sunday Nov. 19.

This has come at the request of club directors who said the previous dates conflicted too much with other activities on their professional and personal calendars.

AES will open at 6 p.m. the Sunday before Thanksgiving moving forward to allow club directors to enter their teams in one-day Badger Region tournaments. Oct. 1 remains the date to enter two-day or three-day events in the Badger Region.

The date to be accepted into tournaments (meaning fees have been received) in Monday, Nov. 27.

REQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

› kids need to try out fore playing beach?

No tryouts for beach. Everyone plays. That's right. Simply sign up and play. No camps, clinics, fees required. Badger Region Volleyball has all about the information for players currently playing volleyball.

› are there specialized positions in beach?

On the sand it's not uncommon. If you have had knee injuries or you just feel most comfortable diving for shots with pads on, then you should not hesitate to wear knee pads or a knee brace while playing.

› are beach courts the same size as indoor?

Beach doubles courts are much smaller. Indoor courts are 60' x 30' and beach courts are 26'3" x 52'6". A taller court ensures rallies last longer.

GET EXCITED TO PLAY BEACH VOLLEYBALL

Beach volleyball has become one of the most popular summertime activities. Why play beach volleyball? Well, it's fun! Benefits of the sport include conditioning, cardiovascular exercise, improved agility, and provides outdoor social activity.

Traditionally when athletes are first playing in the sand, they need to get their "sand legs." Many athletes notice the sand is constantly shifting under their feet forcing quick position changes using muscles which are often neglected. Over time sand volleyball players develop excellent endurance and stamina.

Getting outside is really good for mental and physical health.

Beach volleyball provides the opportunity to get outside, enjoy some fresh air, exercise, and make new friends. Get a group of kids together, grab a court at a local park and play. Pick up games can be great for kids who are new to the game.

INDOOR VS. OUTDOOR DIFFERENCES

Outdoors: Beach/grass/sand rule

Games played to 21 points

Playing conditions (wind, sun, texture of the sand) are up to Mother Nature to decide. That's why you switch sides every seven points

Teams consist of two players. There's no bench and no substitutions. Once you step on the court, you don't get to leave until the game is decided

Very tight rules on double contacts — therefore you'll see less overhand setting taking place. No setting is allowed on first contact

Beach players must use their palm, locked or curled fingers to hit a short shot over the net

You can penetrate under the net provided you do not interfere with your opponent

Antennas are rarely used except in pro competition. In the absence of antennas, the posts act as antennas for all purposes except player contact

Indoor volleyball rule

Games played to 25

Athletes don't have weather to contend with. You've got four walls, a roof and good lighting

Indoors, you have six athletes on the court at one time and bench players who can sub in (in addition to a libero).

Rules regarding double contacts (especially on first contacts) are more relaxed to allow for longer rallies

Open-hand tips are allowed.

Center line violations can occur if an athlete causes a safety risk or gains an advantage going past the center line

Indoor rules strictly stipulate the use of antennas to define the crossing space over the net.

ADVICE FROM THE EXPERTS

Olympian April Ross said there is one big difference going from the indoor game to the beach. "It's the mental endurance. "You can't have any mental letdown. You have to approach each one with intensity and emotion."

When asked if he believes indoor players should also play sand volleyball, former Stanford University women's coach John Dunning says yes and that "playing sand can help a player in a variety of ways, including enjoying the game for a longer time and benefiting from the mental aspect of playing on a two-person team."

Get your jersey questions answered

The Badger Region Volleyball Association wants to make sure your team's jerseys are compliant with all rule sets and changes that have gone into effect.

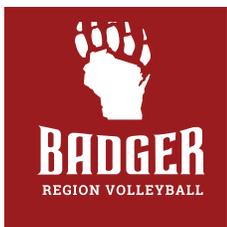

To do so, the Region's Ref Chair is encouraging club directors or coaches to send images if there is any concern that numbers are not contrasting enough with the dominant color of the jersey or if a jersey is not contrasting for libero purposes.

The photos of the jerseys should not be of any junior athlete in uniform.

Reminder: All numbers must clearly contrast with the color of the jersey, regardless of the color of the outline of the number.

If your team plans to attend a USA Volleyball Boys or Girls Qualifier or National Championship, the Region can also help direct you as to the proper channels you must go through to get jersey waivers.

How is the Badger Region Board structured?

The Badger Region Volleyball Association is governed by a Board of Directors that must be elected by members on a regular basis. Area reps serve three-year terms, while members of the executive board serve four-year terms.

Members, whether they are players, coaches, parents, directors, athletic trainers or officials, are encouraged to communicate with their respective representative if they think policies or financial decision in the Region need to be changed.

Some policies enforced by Badger Region come from USA Volleyball, our sport's national governing body, so those can't be changed. But many others can.

The Board is advised by a 11 chairpersons (or experts) in various parts of the game, and five staff members (some of which have multiple responsibilities).

The state is divided into five parts geographically for representation. Plus, there are two at-large board members who you can approach if you don't feel comfortable with your current rep. And there is a rep dedicated just to issues that surround our Junior volleyball clubs and athletes.

You'll be hearing from each Board member twice a year in the form of a column in the Badger Beacon. Now, let's meet them:
